

Larsen & Toubro (L&T) announced that it has been awarded important contracts to construct data centres in Mumbai and Navi Mumbai with a combined capacity of 10.8 MW.

The business will design, construct, and take part in supply work, among other things, for data centres and related structures like fit-outs.

The structures and factories division of L&T Construction, an L&T affiliate, secures the orders. Contracts of Rs 1,000–Rs 2,500 crore are categorised by the corporation as important orders. Additionally, the business has obtained a contract from the Madhya Pradesh State Tourism Development Corporation Ltd. for the engineering, purchasing, and construction of the “Statue of Oneness” The Statue of Adi Shankaracharya at Omkareshwar in Khandwa, Madhya Pradesh.
