

Tata Power and Enviro have announced a new agreement in which EV chargers will be placed in Gurugram, bolstering efforts to deliver greater and more conveniently accessible EV charging infrastructure.

Enviro is the facilities management arm of Vatika Group, a real estate developer located in the National Capital Region.

The two firms will now collaborate to establish 59 electric vehicle charging outlets across Vatika Group's assets in Gurugram, Haryana, according to the terms of the agreement. These planned EV chargers will be put across Vatika Group's Gurugram properties at a total of 18 sites.

Depending on the nature of the premises, these EV chargers in Gurgaon will be supplied as public or semi-public charging stations
